LOCAL WHOLESALE TRADE

INTEREST THE PAST WEEK HAS CENTERED IN DRY GOODS.

Advance of from 1-4c to 1c Through the Brown and Bleached Cotton Lines-Groceries Heavy.

Interest in the local wholesale trade the past week has centered in the dry goods market. This market has continued strong with advances of from %c to Ic through the list of brown and bleached cotton lines. Prints, ginghams, denims, fancy prints and tickings also show advances over the prices prevailing a short time ago. Of the dry goods market the Indianapolis Trade

Journal says:

"As a consequence of the strong tendency of the dry goods the shipping tills are packed to the celling with orders waiting on the shipping forces. The 'fever' for cottons seems to have taken hold, also, in the other departments, for heavy and increasing sales are reported through all lines of spring and summer stuffs. To add to the galety of the occasion, the Japanese are buying baled cotton in large quantities, and shipments of twelve and fifteen hundred bales $2.25 rates; from mill, $2.10 rates. Horseshoes, are noted in the cargoes of nearly every steamer | nails, $4@5 per box. Barb wire, galvanized, $2.75; leaving Pacific ports.

"One of the heaviest users of cotton cloths in the West is the Lewis Meier & Co., of this city, makers of shirts and overalls. In speaking about the present condition of the cotton supply average, 850c; sugar-cured, Indiana, 8 to 10 lbs several of the larger commission houses readily of the country, Mr. Charles Buschman, the man-Feb. 1, followed by a decline of 3 to 4 cents a price of the bris, adding 50c to cover additional pound, has not checked the advance in prices · of cotton goods. Most of the cotton goods early in this season were based on a 101/2-cent market. Later, a 12-cent basis was made; this continues up to the present, although cotton is 141/4c. Buyers are ever offering 15 cents freely, but to 40 lbs average, 101/20; 20 to 30 lbs average, 11c. In dry salt, 1/2c less. no sellers are to be found. I think cotton will go to 17 cents for July and August, at which I think cotton will Buyers do not hesitate to pay advances now; however, they demand early deliveries, and are surprised as well as feeling relieved when promised that deliveries will be made. The cold weather caused another flurry in eggs trade in wheat the past week as there was the previous week, and when the market broke there cents Friday. Dealers would not make such ofwas not nearly so much liquidation as the latter part of last week, when the public was takfers except for spot stuff, fearing to place orders ing profits. Last week the high prices were much above 25 cents for delivery several days away. With continued mild weather the market caused mainly by the immense wave of public is expected to show an easier tendency the combuying. This week the advance seems to be due more to really bullish conditions than anything ing week.

The feature of trading in oats was the heavy buying of both May and July deliveries by the eading bull houses. Offerings were throughout the day, and in consequence the market ruled strong. While the strength in other grains was an influence, the greatest strength was derived from the fact that the break early in the week discouraged farmers from marketing their grains so that receipts are again becoming light. UNION STOCKYARDS, INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 13.-Hogs-The receipts to-day were equal to the average at this time in the week, and with about twenty-five loads carried over from yesterday the supply on sale was comparatively liberal for Saturday. While the receipts were large, they were not surprising compared with preceding days this month, all of which have been unusumonth thus far are less than 10,000 smaller than the total for February last year. The receipts for twelve days were nearly twice as large as the corresponding period a year ago. The market opened to-day with quite a falling off in the demand from outside sources, and local packers, having things more their own way, they were naturally inclined to be more independent, and, of course, were bidding lower. At the start they were very deliberate in arranging terms, but finally, when salesmen had been persuaded to accept prices offered, the trading was reasonand Kansas stock cases returned, 251/2c; new No. ably active. REVIEW OF THE WEEK From the shippers' standpoint there has been strenuous hog market this week. Orders practically throughout the week were liberal and advance, but most of the time were very fair | the hog market was only fairly active at uneven competitors. Consequently it was possible to | ly lower prices than Friday. make good clearances every day until near the close of the week, when the receipts, under the influence of high prices, became rather excessive, and it was impossible to transfer all of the gain of 5@10c in prices, and at the high time top figures represented an advance of 30c on heavy and 25c on light, as compared with the close of last week. The natural result of the liberal receipts at the close of the week was a reaction in values, and at the extreme close the best heavy hogs were selling 10@15c under the high time and generally about 15c higher than the close of last week, while the loss in light hogs from the high time was generally 10@15c. near the close of the week.

Prices naturally were inclined to weakness, and probably no doubt were some lower most of the week, but there was an increase in the requirements from country sources at the extreme close of the week, and sales were usually at quotably steady prices, but 10c to 15c lower than a short time ago. There were no sales of steers above $4.90 this week, and a very small percentage of the sales were above $4.50, while quite a number sold at $3.50@4.50. Only extra good feeding cattle were salable above $4, and transactions usually ranged from $3.50 to $4. The market for soc cows and helfers has fared better than for other cattle, and most of the week the very best select tions have been salable at nearly steady prices. Aside from top kinds, however, closing prices this week are possibly 10c to 15c lower in a gen eral way than at the close of last week, and common to medium helfers no doubt were occasionally 25c lower. For an extreme heifers sold as high as $4.30, but there were comparatively few sales above $4; and quite a number at $1.50 3.75. Fancy cows sold as high as $4.15, but $2.85 was considered a top price, and a large percent age of the cows sold from $2 to $3.65. The de mand for buils this week has been much better than usual, and strong to higher prices were realized, but there were no sales during the week above $3.75. There was a gain of fully 25c in prices of calves about the middle of the week, stock and a small business was transacted until

but at the close there was a rapid decline, and the top was reduced from $8 to $7. THE SHEEP MARKET. As usual at the close of the week, there were hardly enough sheep or lambs on hand to show the condition of the market for any grade. There were not enough, in fact, to invite competition between all buyers, and there were no unusual or important developments in the market. Only small bunches were offered, and sales included lambs as high as $6 and sheep as high as $4 which was considered fully steady compared with yesterday. Quotations:

Good to choice lambs..... Common to medium lambs..... Common to best yearlings..... Good to choice sheep Fair to medium sheep ... Culis and common sheep Stockers and feeding sheep .. Bucks, per 100 lbs..... REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Although smaller than a week ago, the receipts of sheep and lambs this week were just about large enough to accommodate the urgent requirements of local butchers and encourage a fair business from outside sources. Some days the supply was too small to interest all buyers, but most of the week both butchers and shippers were represented in the market, and at all such times the trading was active and prompt clearances were the result.

The quality and condition of current offerings has been uniform and generally satisfactory Therefore, there was no occasion for any materia change in prices on this account, and, as the supplies were not large enough to affect values in any way, there has been no quotable change during the week except, possibly, in regard t of lambs have sold at $6 and comparatively fev below $5.75. Yearling sheep have sold as high tion of the hogs sold at a range of from 5c to 15c lower than yesterday, with the average making close to 10c decline. With no increase in the de-

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

The Cincinnati Price Current says: "The marketing of hogs has been considerably reduced the past week, but shows an increase of 50,000 compared with the corresponding period last year in the packing returns. Total Western packing, 475,000, compared with 550,000 the preceding week and 520,000 two weeks ago. For the corresponding time last year the number was 425,000, and two years ago 590,000. From Nov. I the total is 7,455, 000, against 7,270,000 a year ago-an increase o 185,000. The quality is generally good, comparing favorably with other seasons for the time of the year, although the weights in some instances appear to be relatively light. Prices have advanced, the average of prominent markets at the close indicating about $5.10 per 100 lbs.

"The speculative provision market made at advance the past week, which was credited to the 'outside' element buying. War news from the far East and the strength in the grain markets were the causes which brought the public into the market. May pork advanced more than other leading articles; and the close shows a gain of $1.10 per barrel compared with a week ago While the feeling in the trade was naturally firm the advance was due to speculative buying and was not occasioned by any material change in The export clearances of products were fair." The receipts of stock this week have been very fair, there being a total of 39,000 hogs, 4,600 cat-26,958 hogs, 4,494 cattle and 977 sheep the corre sponding week two years ago. As usual at the close of the week the cattle and sheep markets on account of the developments in Eastern mar- were quiet yesterday, with very little or no kets. Local packers were rather opposed to the | change in prices compared with yesterday, and The receipts of hogs the past week were com is a gain of over 32,000 compared with the same period a year ago. For the week ending Friday the leading local packers bought a total of 14,900 against 23,230 the preceding week, and 13,364 the same week a year ago. During the same period the shipments were 20,527, against 9,106 the preceding week, and 7,817 the corresponding week two years ago.

The marketing of cattle this week was of not trifle larger than the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year the receipts are nearly 9,600 larger than the same period last year, and for the month thus far there is a gair of 4,000 compared with the same time a year ago.

The receipts of sheep and lambs this week were rather small, showing a decrease of 800 compared with last week, but an increase of 250 over the same week a year ago, and around 150 over the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year the receipts are over 2,000 smaller than the same period last year, and for the month thus far there is a gain of over 400 compared with the same period a year ago.
